SAVE THE CHILDREN APPEAL

Right now 18 million people are facing a hunger crisis in west Africa. It's been triggered by crop shortages, rising food prices and insecurity in neighbouring countries. In Niger, food and medicine is fast becoming out of the reach for the poorest families. Unless we act now, this could soon be the case for other parts of West Africa. Within a month millions of children could be hungry, thirsty and desperately in danger of becoming critically malnourished. We can save their lives, but we need to act now. There will be retiring collections after all services this Sunday for Save the children, please use a gift aid envelope if possible and mark your envelope West Africa Appeal.

KATE SOANES

After very gruelling chemotherapy, nasty surgery and a month's intensive radiotherapy Kate was given a shock last week. She does not have cancer anymore – they had not expected her to survive the treatment! She has to have Herceptin every week for a year, plus physiotherapy is yet to come BUT has the promise of a life. Kate and the whole family thank everyone for their prayers.
